Olav Aaen is qualified and experienced in development of racing and performance products. A mechanical engineer by profession, he spent many years designing and developing racing engines for major manufacturers in the U.S. and Japan. Also an active racer, Aaen was an expert-licensed driver in Europe with several national championships to his credit. He still actively participates in Moto-cross and snowmobile racing.

Our professional approach combined with years of experience on the dyno and at the race tracks guarantees you first-class products and services.
