Who is P.D.I.? What is P.D.I.? P.D.I. was started this last year by one of the most well known men in the performance business, Dan Hangsleben. Dan was formerly the D of DG Enterprises. Dan then became an advisor to T&M Engineering and after helping to develop some of the products they marketed, sponsored on his own Danny Turner and gave him the highest finishing spot by a privateer in the 125 National series that year, #3. Dan has helped in the development of many of the riders riding for many of the factories today. Names such as Danny Turner, Steve Wise, Danny LaPorte, and many more. P.D.I. is very happy and proud to welcome 2-time National 125 Champion factory Honda rider Marty Smith to the P.D.I. camp.

On Marty's Production bikes he will be helping P.D.I. to develop better products for your bike, such as the P.D.I. Marty Smith Lay Down Swing Arm. Marty chose P.D.I. because of their quality and the performance they build into all of their products. P.D.I. was formed originally as just a distributing company but Dan soon found that there was a problem with some of the well known performance products on the market. So he went to work to develop the P.D.I. line of Motocross Hi Performance products. He bought out T&M's Radial Head line which he helped to develop and is the best accessory head on the market today. P.D.I. also bought and improved T&M's Swing Arm line and we think it offers the best swing arm in competition today.

Dan has also developed one of the best Hi Performance Pipe lines available. These pipes were in the development stages for over 2 years. The P.D.I. line of pipes have been tested by expert riders all over the country for the past two years. Dan knows how important the expansion chamber is to the two stroke engine. The P.D.I. line of pipes are not just copies of the stock pipes or have minor changes made to them to make the rider think they are "trick". Our pipes are engineered, built and proven in competition. The P.D.I. line of pipes are not copies of other pipes as is the case with some of the other companies. The P.D.I. line of expansion chamber pipes really works.

All of the products in the P.D.I. line are guaranteed to perform to the high standards that are set at P.D.I. All of the products that P.D.I. distributes in our opinion are the best on the market and are backed not only by P.D.I., but some of the best and most well known companies in the motocross market. It is our pledge at P.D.I. to give you the best available, and best performing products, for your motocross needs. We will strive to do our best for you.
